Mr. Dobias has gained experience as a worker among his own people, the Czecho-Slovakians, by spending several summers canvassing among them. He has also taken charge of the services in the Chicago Czecho-Slovakian Church.

PAUL KUHLMAN

A ministerial student, who has had considerable experience in his chosen work. For two years he has been student pastor of the Decatur church. This year he has taken charge of an effort being held at Dailey.

PHILLIP MOORES

Summer Senior

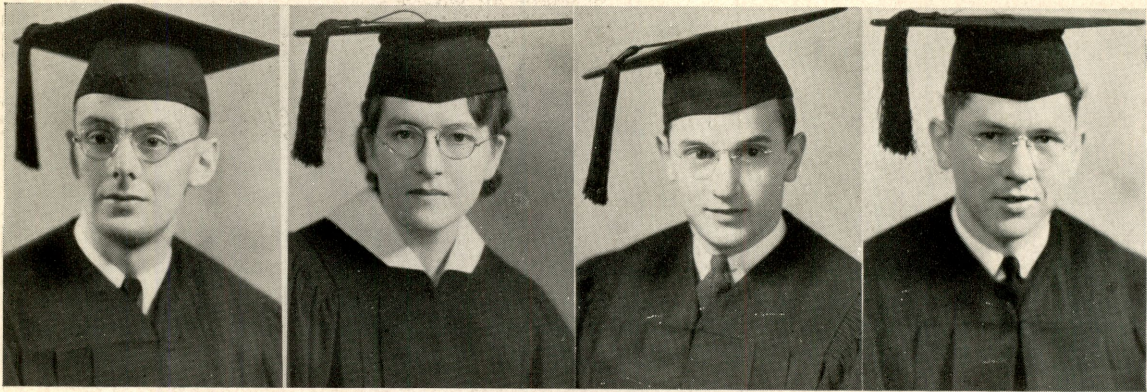

"Phil" is the "Little Corporal" of the campaigns on the campus. He distinguished himself in the "Student Movement" campaign when he led the "Army" to a smashing victory. Some say he is irrepresible.

NEVENA COLLINS

"Connie" Collins, graduating business major, already has had six years of office experience. Besides a heavy work and scholastic program, Miss Collins has taken an active part in school campaigns. Last year she acted as secretary to the Junior Class.

RAYMOND CALDWELL

One of our musicians, with natural talent, Raymond Caldwell, is often called upon to accompany quartets, orchestras, lead in the worship music, on the piano. Last year, he helped to compose the Junior Class song. He has majored in business.

CYRIL FUTCHER
Vice President

FLORENCE PEUGH
Secretary

IVAN WILDENBERG
Treasurer

ROBERT KEPKEY
Pastor

CYRIL FUTCHER

The vice president is a man with a "three-decker brain." At least his straight A record and his election to "Who's Who in American Colleges" seems to indicate this. Mr. Futcher leaves behind him a very successful college career.

ROBERT KEPKEY

The pastor of the Senior Class, Robert Kepkey, has spent several summers canvassing or assisting in tent efforts. Last year he was made president of the Junior Class.

FLORENCE PEUGH

Besides being secretary of the Senior Class, Florence Peugh has held offices in many clubs and societies, including M. V. secretary, Forum secretary, and vice president of Le Cercle Francais.

IVAN WILDENBERG

The treasurer of the Senior Class, and of the 1938 Cardinal, is Ivan Wildenberg. Ivan was also treasurer of the Junior Class last year. His major is business, but he is also interested in music, and last year helped to compose the Junior Class song.

Student Association

School spirit! Not the kind that destroys property or calls forth martial law, but the infective kind that stimulates giving the best you have—that is the spirit that motivates the members of the Student Association of Emmanuel Missionary College.

The school year 1937-38 has been an exceptionally good year for the Student Association. To begin with, the enrollment was the largest in the history of the institution. Into this group, some five hundred strong, pour a good portion of well-guided enthusiasm and the feeling of success that was held over from last year and the reason for the record-breaking happenings of the present year will be evident.

Speaking of campaigns, the Student Movement campaign this year had a real story-book finish. The excellent leadership of Allan Buller, Lucille Haagensen, and Phillip Moores, backed up by hard work by the entire student body, created a list of nearly twenty-eight hundred subscribers. Record! Yes, a record for this school, and we believe, the record for any of our schools.

We are justly proud of our new library. Members of the Student Association gave $2000 to the library fund. When we study in the large reading room or search our choice news items in the magazine room, we feel at home because we had such a definite part in its building.

Our latest project, a recreation square, will provide ample facilities for both summer and winter out-door recreational needs. At a recent chapel session the student body answered the call for needed funds to the extent that work will begin immediately and will continue until the square is completed. This square will consist of a concrete court one hundred and twenty feet by ninety feet that can be used for tennis, rollerskating, shuffleboard, and like games. During the ice-skating season it will be flooded. One grass court, sixty feet by ninety feet, will care for volleyball. The entire square will be fenced and lighted, giving us a recreational center of which we can be proud.

It is thrilling to look back to the accomplishments of the past, but if we would progress we must turn about and face the future with the same determination and zeal that has made our past so glorious. Doing this, we need never fear what our end shall be.

The Student Movement

The Student Movement reached a new high this year. Under the campaign fire of Captain Lucille Haagensen and General Philip Moores, enthusiasm mounted to a high pitch. Our Circulation Manager, Allan Buller, was able to count his job well done when the announcement of an all-time record of 2,560 paid subscriptions marked the climax the final night of the Student Movement campaign. Even yet the triumphant shouts of the dough boys ring in the memories of newly determined sailorettes. It was a great campaign.

The editorial staff took up its work under the double advantage of capable editorship and adequate financial support. Mr. Leonard Nelson, who took over the editorship the second semester of last year, has worked untiringly at his job until his resignation from the Student Movement staff to edit for the Senior Class this year's annual. Unhampered by inadequate funds, he was able to put out a school paper which ranks high with our denominational school papers.

To Miss Hoover, the faculty adviser, a word of appreciation is due for her efforts in making the Student Movement what it is. The business staff has done careful and efficient work. We also appreciate the genuine interest and helpful suggestions of the College Press.

As a supplement to the Student Movement, a mimeographed campus sheet, the E. M. See-er, made its appearance. Edited the first semester by the members of the journalism class, it has since been making its bi-monthly alternation with the Student Movement under the editorial guidance of Alice Love and Harold May. It has successfully answered the need for the presentation of campus news and problems which are of more direct interest to those on the campus. The E. M. See-er, published at no additional cost to the resident students, met with instant and continued approval.

The almost unbelievable sacrifice of time, and the willing cooperation of both staffs have been a constant pleasure both to Mr. Nelson and the present editor. With the continued support of the student body and the good will of our 2800 readers, the Student Movement cannot fail to reach the high goal set for our denominational school papers.

Prospective Teachers

The crowning experience for the prospective teacher comes at the time when he begins actual teaching. Frequently a teacher enters upon his duties with misgivings and with no little anxiety, for ahead of him lies a great unknown. At Berrien College the prospective teacher has opportunity to enter gradually upon classroom duties by first participating in regular school activities under the general supervision of the director of student teaching and under the more specific direction of the grade or subject supervisor and critic teacher, and later he assumes full teaching responsibilities. By following a plan of this kind the student teacher leaves his college not only with training in subject matter, and theories of teaching, but with some actual experience. Opportunities are available for those who meet the prerequisites to teach in either the elementary or the secondary school or both. These schools are located on the campus and are maintained specifically as laboratory schools. The staff of supervisors is well trained and each is anxious to help the student prepare for "the nicest work ever assumed by men and women."

Missionary Volunteer Society

Probably the most outstanding accomplishment of the year has been the change in the time of meeting, which has permitted a greater attendance than heretofore. We have opened our song service one and one-quarter hours before sundown on Sabbath, and have timed our meetings so that the benediction has been said just as the sundown bell rang out the hours of the Sabbath.

Nine missionary bands have gone out from our society each week in addition to the large number of ministerial field workers who lead churches in this locality. The work done by these bands has made it possible for us to be an honor society throughout the entire school year.

Sabbath School

Effort Group

This past winter the people of Buchanan, Dailey, and Elkhart were surprised to hear of the young men evangelists that had come to their community to begin a series of meetings. Not knowing just what denomination was sponsoring the program and seeing a very attractive subject for the opening night, many came out. In Buchanan they heard Phillip Moores and Everett Calkins; in Dailey, Erling Calkins and Lowell Edwards, and George Vandeman in Elkhart.

Seminar

The well-filled worship room of Maple Hall every Friday night testifies that the Ministerial Seminar is one of our most popular organizations. The student sermons and the lively open forum discussions together with helpful criticisms and suggestions are instructively interesting. Greater evangelism, more extensive personal work, and higher Christian missionary ideals are promoted.

Chorus

Week after week, sixty-five enthusiastic young singers met under the experienced leadership of Mr. Metzger. Their untiring efforts and their musical ability was manifested in the beautiful rendition of the Messiah. The annual presentation of this oratorio has become a tradition of the College. The second semester's work was a varied program of secular and sacred numbers.

Orchestra

The College Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. J. J. Hafner, has enjoyed an exceptionally good season. Among its accomplishments, Beethoven's Egmont Overture, Symphonic Militaire of Haydn, Mozart's Jupiter Symphony, and other large works, as well as novelty numbers, were given in the two concerts of the year. Burton Jackson, concert marimbist, was presented at the winter concert as guest artist.

Forum

The Girls Forum originated many years ago when the girls of Birch Hall felt the need of education along cultural and ethical lines. To meet this need a club was organized and christened the Forum.

One night every other week, under the direction of Miss McCormack, the girls gather in the assembly room of Birch Hall for an hour of relaxation. Guest speakers have made the hour one of intellectual value; musical programs have made it one of esthetic worth; and the Christmas eve party added a bright memory of social merriment.

E. M. Club

Entertaining and instructional programs are given by the E. M. Club every second week on Tuesday evening. During the school year of 1937-38 the club has featured various local-talent programs including an exceptionally interesting performance of hidden talents among the faculty men; one of hidden abilities of club members; a xylophone concert and a chalk talk demonstration by members of the girls' Forum. Also the E. M. Club sponsored a program of music and entertainment for the entire student body, featuring Edwin Christensen, ventriloquist. Not only is the club concerned with entertainment, but it also is proud of the fact that its members are the victors of the greatest Student Movement campaign in history.

Dear Diary:

September

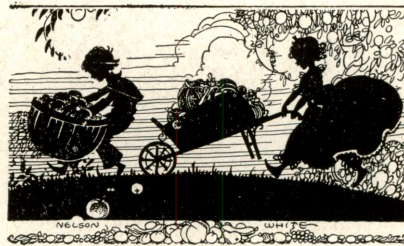

How old Father Time has hurried these last few weeks. Here it is the last day of September already. Two glorious weeks of school are past. Why, it seems just yesterday that I moved into Maple Hall. I didn't attend the marches and games on the lawn that first night—too busy getting settled. But the next evening it was a relief, after all the formalities of registration were over, to relax out on the Point. I guess my arm was never as tired as at the "hand shake" that first Saturday night. Now, with all my textbooks procured, school begins in earnest. I can see already why "The College of Opportunity" is so fitting a name for E. M. C.

October

Whee! Another month gone. This has been a month of campaigns. October 5 was the first Harvest Ingathering field day. When all the cars had returned and their gatherings counted, it was found that $1141.40, plus apples, grapes, potatoes, and even chickens, had been received. Over seventeen hundred dollars came in during the first week, and our goal of two thousand dollars has been exceeded long ago.

We had scarcely caught our breath after the Harvest Ingathering campaign when the drive for fifteen hundred Student Movement subscriptions was launched. The rivalry is intense between the boys, led by "General" Phillip Moores and "Colonel" John Miklos, and the girls, who are directed by "Admiral" Lucille Haagensen and "Lieutenant" Florence Peugh. Still, I don't know if we'll raise the hoped-for number of subs by Armistice Day. Allan Buller is doing a superb job of managing the campaign; he surely deserves a successful finish.

October couldn't pass without a good Hallowe'en party, like the one sponsored by the Student Association last Saturday night. Typical autumn decorations completely transformed the Recreation Hall. Highlights of the program were selections by the Male Quartet, readings by Miss Opal Hoover, George Vandeman, and Stanley Hill. While the refreshments, consisting of doughnuts and sweet cider, helped to make the occasion a delightful one, the most entertaining feature was the old one-room schoolhouse, as depicted by a group of students.

Most recent of all this month's happenings is the Week of Prayer. Elder Meade MacGuire was the guest speaker throughout the week. The influence of the individual prayer bands, over forty in number, and of the morning and evening meetings, was very noticeable.

November

We did it! Yes sir, the S. M. campaign ended with a bang, and best of all, 2560 subscriptions were turned in. That record should stand for some time, unless next year there are more students as energetic as the three boys, who between them accounted for two hundred eight subs. That last night was perfect bedlam; everyone turning in subs at the last moment, or running around excitedly. Poor monitors, they had a tough job.

My Pleasantest Summer Vacation

"My pleasantest summer vacation," wrote a wide-awake college senior, "was the one in which, besides having all the usual good times with my friends, I devoted a little spare time to taking a Home Study course and earned some valuable credits."

The Home Study Institute offers a full line of college and academic studies. Its work is accredited in all our own educational institutions and in many others where its high character is known. Payment can be made on the installment plan. Tell us of your needs at once, and let us help you to get started. The enrollment sent in to us before you leave college, or immediately after you reach home, will insure your receiving the lessons and textbooks in time to start your vacation right.

When it was all over but the counting, everyone gathered in the "Rec" hall to await the final results. It was a pretty tense crowd that watched Allan Buller climb to the platform and announce the winners. We celebrated the Armistice in traditional manner; everyone wildly shouting, while the band played futilely amidst the din. Now that victory is ours, we're looking forward to a well-earned banquet.

When all the smoke of the battle had cleared away we realized that mid-semester exams were at hand. Some folks "boned" every morning, but I decided that perhaps just a light review would be just as helpful. The grades will tell who was right.

Then to round out the month, there was Thansgiving vacation.

December

A half-holiday on December 20 gave an opportunity for all the students to help move the twenty thousand library books to their new home. Too bad that they couldn't feel as thrilled as we, to be able to occupy the best library building in the denomination.

The long-awaited Victory banquet, held the evening of the same day, turned out to be everything we'd hoped for. Floating blue streamers, red bells, and silver stars brought Christmas atmosphere to the recreation hall. The food—in Dr. McCumber's vocabulary—was superb, stupendous, the best ever. The various numbers of the program were announced by Hostess Lucille Haagensen. Music by the girls' octet and a girls' trio was followed by Gladys Kuhn's cleverly entertaining chalk talk. The highlight of the evening was an original musical sketch by several of the young women, entitled "Christmas with the Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe." In closing, Miss Thelma McAlister distributed the various campaign prizes. Besides the individual and band awards, of cash, thirty-nine girls and twenty-nine boys received letters for turning in ten or more subs each.

One of the outstanding musical treats of the year was the presentation of Handel's Messiah by a chorus of one hundred ten voices and a forty-five-piece orchestra. Mr. J. H. Metzger directed the musicians, while Professor Hannum assisted at the organ. Solo parts were taken by Marian Wight, Adeline Kleist, Dorothy Alexander, Arthur Gay, Brock Wells, and Leonard Woods.

Well, here it's Christmas vacation, and the semester is nearly gone. I'm going to enjoy vacation while it lasts.

January

Not so much has happened this month. Everyone settled down to intensive work after vacation, spurred on, no doubt, by their New Year's resolutions. Perhaps the semester examinations this last week had something to do with the increased interest in reference books and early morning study periods.

As a fitting relaxation after test week, the E. M. Club presented a program on Saturday evening, January 29, featuring Mr. Edwin Christensen, ace ventriloquist. Like all E. M. Club meetings, it was entertaining but worth while.

Mr. Virgil Fox, noted concert organist, gave a program the following evening, which, many felt, was the best Lyceum course number so far this year. His comments concerning the personalities of the different composers made the program doubly enjoyable.

February

The month of well-known birthdays is past already. Motion pictures shown at the Student Association's Valentine party on February 13, recalled scenes from the life of George Washington. The recreation hall, disguised with red and white streamers, of red hearts, and black silhouettes, was the site of the remainder of the festivities.

Jack Shull, acting as master of ceremonies, first introduced Dr. McCumber, whose vocal solo interested all. Following Mrs. Hannum's reading, refreshments of ice cream, cookies, and punch were served. Vocal solos by Gordon McCrillis, and Jewell Wilson, readings by Ramona Kinzer and Dick Mitchell, and a vocal duet by Dorothy Alexander and Glenn Bean completed the evening's entertainment.

This month also brought us an interesting visitor, Elder L. E. Froom. He delivered a short series of documented lectures on the advent hope.

March

We had a birthday party this month. On Founders' Day, the eleventh, Emmanuel Missionary College was sixty-four years old. At the chapel program in commemoration of this event, Mrs. Burman presented a historical sketch of the school's growth from adolescence into full maturity. Mrs. Romant read a poem recounting the life story of the College bell, while in answer, the old bell itself answered with an insistent "Come along, come along." Following President Klooster's address, the Senior Class president, Freeman Quimby, officiated in the traditional tree-planting ceremony.

April

Well, diary, I can't put down as actual history the things which are yet to happen, but campus rumors have it that before long our much-needed recreation court will be a reality. Here it is time for Spring vacation already, and so much activity is still in the future. There's the Girls' Reception, which we are anxiously awaiting. Then of course the school picnic, and whoa—before we know it, final exams will be here! If I expect to attend commencement exercises and the library dedication with any peace of mind, I'll just have to make a bee-line for the library right now and get that research theme out of the way. 'Bye, faithful diary!
