TIME

With the advancing shadow our days are spent . . .

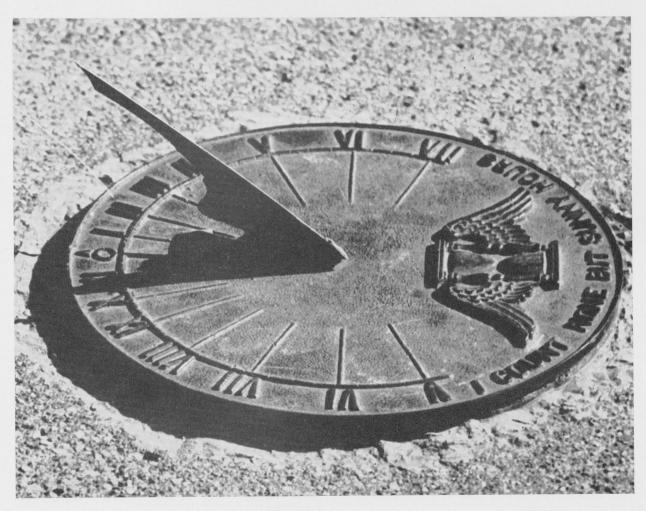

Consciously we covet each passing moment knowing that ''we shall pass this way but once.''

From time past we reminisce-

With time present we live-

For time future we aspire-

But for TIME unending we build.

SCHOLAR, GENTLEMAN, FRIEND OF STUDENTS-

- WITH ADMIRATION we recognize your outstanding scholastic achievements, your ever-inquisitive mind, your all-pervading common sense, and your contagious sense of humor.
- WITH GRATITUDE we note how you never allow a class period to become trite or uninspiring. Always striving for perfection yourself, you spur us to greater achievements, not by making the assignments easy, but by presenting the challenge of unconquered fields of knowledge.
- WITH ENVY we regard your deep familiarity with the lessons of the past and your keen insight into the problems of the present and of the future. Your profound convictions have made lasting impressions upon youthful minds.
- WITH PRIDE we call you our mentor and friend, because you walk among us unassumingly, a Christian scholar, a gentleman and a friend of students. Without being a minister you preach; your life is a sermon.

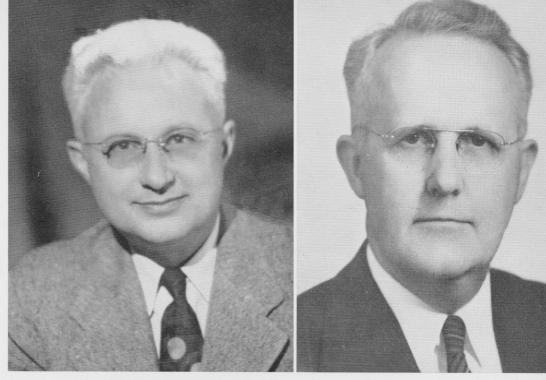

WITH AFFECTION we dedicate to you, Dr. E. K. Vande Vere, the 1954 Cardinal.

Elder C. E. Wittschiebe Speaker, Fall Week of Prayer

A TIME FOR PRAYING

In making first things first we devote a regular time each day to the contemplation of the "wonderful works of God." At these times of spiritual refreshment, our cares are lifted and we come into a clearer understanding of our relationship to our Creator and our fellow students.

A CHURCH COLLEGE WITHOUT A CHURCH BUILDING

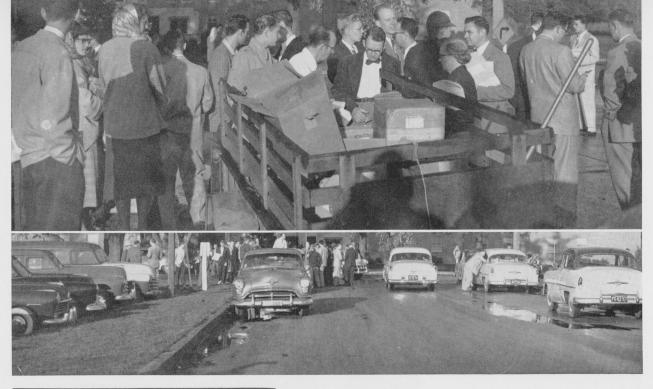

For fifty-three years Emmanuel Missionary College has conducted Sabbath services in the college chapel or the gymnasium. It is true that many services have been held there which may be looked back on as wonderful seasons of refreshing. However, thousands of students have gone from this school without the deep-seated feeling that they have been to a Sabbath service in a building set apart for meeting with the Creator of the universe, a sacred place.

The college buildings in which one has studied and recited hold precious memories, but the place which stands out in the minds of the students who attended the old Battle Creek College is the tabernacle where they assembled for Sabbath services and the ordinances. They felt they were entering a building set apart for the worship of God. Their conversation changed, their thoughts were directed to spiritual subjects, and they left the church with the feeling that they had been in a hallowed place.

This is what we should have at Emmanuel Missionary College, and in the near future a building is to be erected which will be associated in the minds of the students and the families living nearby with the presence of heavenly beings.

The church congregation is to raise $90,000. During the last two years $37,000 of this has been raised.

S. E. Wight

INGATHERING

Five hundred students and faculty members hurriedly gathered pamphlets, receipt books, and collection cans on October 6 as each Ingathering band met for prayer and last minute instructions. Evening brought the results: jelly jars and puppies, bicycles and pumpkins disappeared under the influence of the auctioneer's persuasive voice; band thermometers climbed past the goals; Dr. Christian beamed. Wednesday's victory celebration revealed the grand total of $12,643.35.

Carol Rasmussen taught a class of married students who met each Sabbath in Lamson Chapel

SABBATH SCHOOL

Sabbath School officers, College Division:

WORSHIPPING

The Collegians toured several states and Canada giving religious and secular concerts.

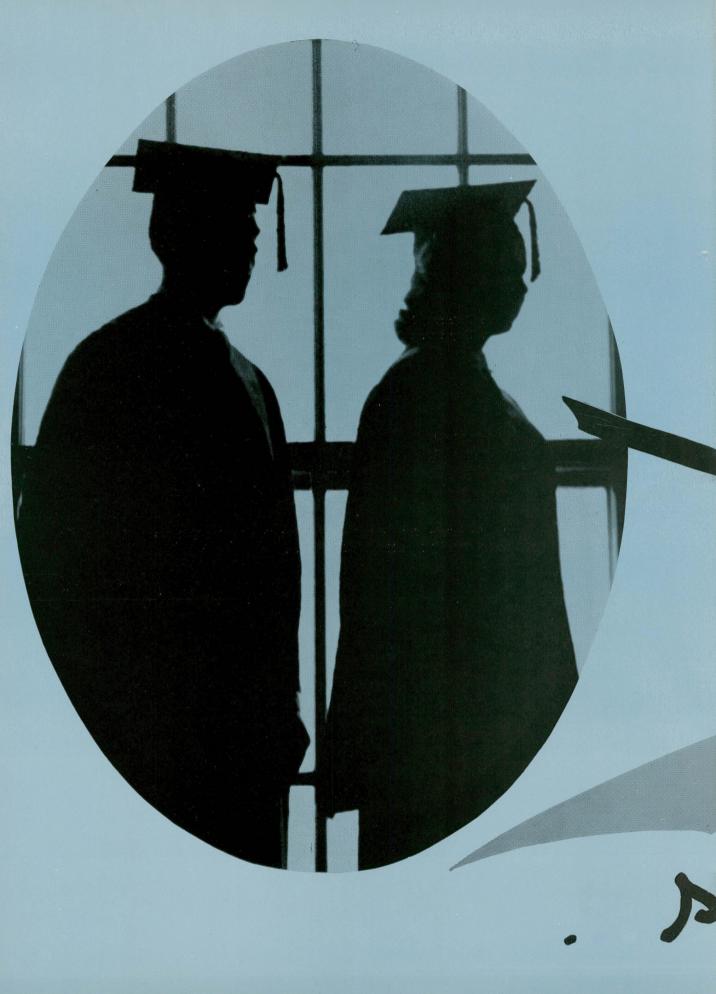

The College Choir sang for church services at the college, in Berrien Springs and other nearby churches. They were capably directed by Wilmoth Benson.

THROUGH MUSIC

All the college choirs united at Christmas time to sing that paean of praise, the "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's MESSIAH.

P. W. Christian President of the College

"Do you love life? Then use time wisely, for it is the stuff of which life is made!" This familiar maxim might well be pondered by every person who wishes to live his life to the full. For we have only one life to live, and it is impossible to recall and improve even one wasted moment.

Some individuals regard time only as a factor which makes possible the achievement of a skill, the accumulation of a fortune, or the attainment of power over others. But to the Christian, and particularly to us at Emmanuel Missionary College, time has a far greater significance.

To us, time is not our own, to be wasted in selfish pleasure or in sinful indulgence; it is a talent lent by God Himself, and we recognize the most solemn obligation to use it wisely in developing our own character and in bringing to others the good news of salvation. To us, time is valuable beyond all calculation, for God has given us no talent of which He will require a more strict account.

Even in the joyful time of youth it is well for us to recognize that "every moment is freighted with eternal consequence," and that "time wasted is mere existence, but time used is life." The faculty of Emmanuel Missionary College wishes for each of its students "a life of no regrets!"

Sincerely,

M. Christian

To impress students with the surpassing importance of time the tower clock at Oxford has inscribed beneath its giant face these Latin words: Pereunt et impuntatur. "They pass and are charged to our account." In order that no precious moment be wasted Solomon wrote: "See then that ye walk as wise men redeeming the time." How rich and rewarding will be the college life of the discerning student who early learns the supreme value of every minute!

F. O. Rittenhouse Dean of the College

V. E. Garber Business Manager

Time is a possession to be exchanged for something else. Students give time and labor in exchange for an education and almost all other things of value. To be watchful of every minute, then, is wise economy. A minute is a little thing, but we must remember that it is by heeding little things that character is established.

"SOUTH HALL" IS DOOMED

The Old must give place to the New No matter how "good" the old be. Full certain the advent of change, As life's hours inexorably flee.

South Hall, Once our pleasure and pride, Once the heart of activities all, At the hands of stern progress has died; Will be gone e'er the end of the fall.

All in vain do our memories cry— "Spare O spare the old building so dear." None can make Time stand still—though some try! Naught can hold back the changes, we fear! So the roof's taken off—trucked away— And the windows are blind openings now. All the siding is missing today, And the rafters their proud gables bow.

All the fixtures are gone long ago, And the storm siding's now coming off, While the mosquish Bell Tower's laid low, And at bare studding strangers may scoff.

But the lives of her sons, through the years, In many a difficult place Have shone bright through the pain and the tears And reflected the Story of Grace.

And though buildings and men may subside, And the rafters—and bodies—decay, Truth and Character ever abide, And grow brighter and stronger each day!

WHAT WILL YOUR FUTURE BE?

One night three young men were working late in the office of their employer. The auditor was to arrive the next day and all the accounts must be ready for him. At last, having completed their work, they left the office together. Feeling worn and tired, one of the group suggested they all have a snack. All three agreed and soon were walking down the street to find a place that served food at that hour. Presently they were in front of a bar that also dispensed sandwiches. One of the three suggested they go no further. The second young man hesitated but finally consented. The third youth was much disturbed and stated that he would rather go without food than be seen in that place. The second young man now hesitated, finally deciding he would prefer another spot. This brought the third one in line and soon all three were quietly seated together in a clean and wholesome place. One young man of conviction had made the difference. Somewhere along in his life he had made a decision that now came to his aid.

What we become is the result of decisions. Sometimes these are big but most of the time they are small and seemingly unimportant. But as all of these are added together they form a character and character decides the success or failure of a life.

PRINCIPAL ELLIS R. MAAS

The purpose of this Academy is to offer its students a Christian atmosphere where right decisions may be consistently arrived at. The degree of success achieved in this respect measures the success of the school.

In a knowledge of God, all true knowledge and real development have their source. Wherever we turn, in the physical, the mental, or the spiritual realm; in whatever we behold, apart from the blight of sin, this knowledge is revealed. Whatever line of investigation we pursue, with a sincere purpose to arrive at truth, we are brought in touch with the unseen, mighty Intelligence that is working in and through all. The mind of man is brought into communion with the mind of God, the finite with the Infinite. The effect of such communion on body and mind and soul is beyond estimate.
