

Mattox, treasurer; Altamont Francis, parliamentarian; Billy Hill, sergeant-at-arms. Mr. G. R. Patridge is acting sponsor for the U. S. M., who worked untiringly to make the banquet one of those never-to-be-forgotten events.

Bridges completed the OC roster. Game officials: Gerald Wells, Robert Sparks—referees; James Street and Mrs. Alene Harris—book scorers; Cecil Jackson, time and score-board keeper.

The primary project of the organization, according to the president, Albert Reid, is to prepare the members to accept and appreciate the challenge of the teaching profession. They propose to accomplish this by a program of observation, investigation, and discussion of the various aspects of the profession. Teachers from the Huntsville schools will be invited to participate in these activities.

city members alike. On Wednesday, Feb. 12, Dr. William A. Osborne gave a stirring address on "The British Negroes in the Caribbean." Music was provided by Carole Crosdale, soloist, and Arnold Dean, organist.

A musical program, featuring the College Choir, the Aeolians, George O'Bryant and Dorothy Dorsett, soloists, and a piano and organ duet by Arnold Dean and Albert Reid, was the offering for Friday, Feb. 14.

Officers of the club are George I. Pearson, president, and Anne C. Brown, secretary-treasurer.

In connection with this program, the club members are anxiously looking forward to attending the National Education Association's State Chapter's annual meeting of Alabama A. and M. College this spring.

All education majors and minors are invited to participate in the club activities.

Vincet Qua Ses Work On Dorm Project

PHYLLIS BRYAN, Reporter

Vincet Qua Se Vincet project committee members under the leadership of Ellen Turner, Floridian senior, have been engaged in food sales since the month of October in order to raise funds for dormitory improvements. The bulk of the proceeds will be expended on new furnishings for the ladies' lounge in Cunningham Hall.

Another major project of the college young women will culminate with the "Hour of Charm" presentation scheduled for March 22. This highly cultural and entertaining program is an annual event which features the College Women's Chorus under the direction of Dr. Eva B. Dykes.

Teams have been formed for the sale of tickets, with pairs of ladies working competitively for prizes, which will be awarded to the sellers of the largest number of tickets.

El Kappa Blancas Give Farewell Party

CAROLE CROSDALE, Reporter

The El Kappa Blanca, the pre-nursing students' club, gave a farewell party for two of their members who had finished their pre-nursing training here at OC—Misses Mildred Edwards and Josephine White. They have finished the first mile stone toward the cherished profession of nursing.

The future nurses and their guests had a gay time over many unique games and their very tasty menu, which they prepared.

One of the guests remarked, "I don't know if they'll make good nurses, but I do know, if they can prepare such delicious food, they'll make wonderful housewives."

Oakwood College Roster for Second Semester

	Major	Class.	State
inger, Roy	Religion	Freshman	Wis.
amin, Corine	Pre-nursing	Freshman	S.C.
ne, Eddie Lewis	Religion	Freshman	Ala.
en, Olice	Business	Freshman	Okla.
wright, Reuben	Religion	Freshman	Fla.
man, Samuel	Elementary Education	Freshman	Ohio
ford, Alfonso	Business Administration	Freshman	Ala.
non, Minnie Lou	Secretarial Science	Freshman	Ala.
is, Delois	Home Economics	Sophomore	Ala.
s, Genevieve	Pre-x-ray	Freshman	Pa.
Lawrence	Religion	Freshman	Mich.
les, Edward	Religion	Freshman	N. C.
s, Gregory	Religion	Freshman	Mich.
t, Garland	History	Sophomore	Ala.
ns, Leonard	Religion	Freshman	N. Y.
r, James	Religion	Sophomore	N. C.
ps, Hurley M.	Elementary Education	Junior	Ohio
son, Charlotte	Business Administration	Freshman	Tenn.
ts, Enoch	Religion	Freshman	Antigua, BWI.
er, Loretta	Elementary Education	Freshman	Mich.
Maria, Nesta	Pre-nursing	Freshman	Nicaragua
ton, Mercedes	Secretarial Science	Freshman	N. Y.
, Annie	Secretarial Science	Freshman	Ala.
, Kenneth	Religion	Senior	Calif.
ce, Jessie	Secretarial Science	Freshman	S. C.
n, Ruth	Elementary Education	Freshman	Va.